The reign of the algorithm... ...do you trust this machine?

Lecture delivered by Borislava Manolova

The future has arrived! We as humans are not even able to completely comprehend the impact technology has and will have on our daily lives. Are we ready to face the rise of the machines? Where will be our place in the new technological developments?

Borislava Manolova is specialised in earth observation technologies (e.g. satellites and drones) and the data derived from these technologies for civil applications.
